“ I remember when I came home with my first baby. Linda was one of the first ones to stop by and visit and check him out. She counted all of his little fingers and toes, laughed and said that was one of the things that she had to do when she visited new Moms. That was 42 years ago. I think at that time she was doing Home Health Care. When I think of her this is one of the things that always comes to mind. She was a strong and special woman and she will be missed.
